Talk to Her Before the Broker?

What kind of company do you want to work for?

By Eddie Velie, Broker/Owner

While working on my masters degree at Hawaii Pacific University, I wrote several papers on quality management. The program was heavy in organizational culture so it didn't take me long to focus on quality culture characteristics.

Ever wonder what it takes to earn a MA in HRM requiring a thesis to graduate? I wrote a paper in nearly every class. Click here to see and read some of them!

Here are some of the characteristics that come to mind as the most important to establish and maintain an organizational culture conducive to continual quality process improvement.

- 👉 Management open door policy
- 👉 Management solicits & uses ideas from employees
- 👉 Employees trust management
- 👉 Short organization structure
- 👉 Democratic form of leadership
- 👉 High job satisfaction rate among employees.

What would it be like working with Velie Realty? This kind of company is our goal.

Like this topic? Read my paper, "HRM Quality Systems." It expands and elaborates on quality corporate cultures.
